2023 Budget

Overview

Cost of living pressures on us all have been increasing over the past four months. In this context it has been good to be able to distribute this month about £125,000 of hardship support to clergy. We have just been notified of further national funding, this time primarily for churches, again largely to help with heating bills, and the Finance Committee will be deciding in November how that money should best be distributed.

As a diocese we will absorb the additional costs that will fall on us from higher inflation in 2023, including from providing for a higher stipend and salary increase (4%). The average level of parish share will be for one final year a zero increase in 2023 and will therefore remain at the same level as in 2020, 2021 and 2022. We hope that this will be very welcome news for parishes and that it will be possible, with support wherever helpful from our generous giving adviser, to increase parish giving to a level that will allow all parish bills to be met including of course parish share.

We are about to launch a much more comprehensive set of financial communications than we have had before. We hope these will give the transparency and information that many have been seeking, including that parish share primarily pays for the costs of the clergy, helping to return the parish share collection rate to close to re-pandemic levels. Please do make suggestions for their further improvement when you see them as we will update and revise them over time.

We of course recognise that following the Parish Share Review approved by Diocesan Synod at its last meeting most deaneries will either be increasing parish share by (up to) 2% (and may wish they were not) or be reducing by (up to) 2% (and may wish the reduction was greater). John Orridge and Liz Holloway are providing help to deaneries in explaining these changes. The commitment made by the DBF Chair in June to a limited annual review of Parish Share methodology will be fulfilled by requesting input from Deanery and Parish treasurers in the September/October period. In practical terms the earliest this process can start is September 2023 (as the new parish share applies only from January 2023) and any changes agreed will then inform the Parish Share calculations for 2025. Treasurers will by then be able to see how the system works in practice whilst protected by the 2% cap which will remain in place for at least 2023 and 2024.

In the 2024 and 2025 Forecasts you will see a proposed 4% p.a. parish share increase from 2024 onwards and we are consulting PCC Treasurers about this in the forthcoming meetings with them. As clergy stipends are by far the largest element of the diocesan budget, there is a direct relationship between the level of stipend (and salary) increase and the parish share increase. With higher inflation expected to remain for several years, the Finance Committee considers that this is a fair compromise (on the basis that a 5% increase in parish share would feel too high in the present climate) but Bishop's Council will reflect on the response before deciding on the actual level of increase in stipends in 2023 and before bringing the draft 2024 Budget to Synod next June.

2023 Amended Budget & 2024-2025 projections

2023 Budget Summary

The Draft Budget agreed by Diocesan Synod in June provided for a budgeted surplus of £1k. Paper ODS 22.12(3) contains the proposed final budget which shows a revised deficit of £164k, together with projections for 2024 &2025.

This reflects (as the draft did) the reduction to 28% (from 39.9% in 2021) in contributions to the clergy pension scheme, the new reduction of 1.25% in National Insurance from 6 Nov 2022 and, finally, given current inflation rates (and noting recommended increases by other Dioceses) the Finance Committee & Bishops Council are recommending a further 1% increase in stipends & salaries in 2023 – a total of 4% for each. No related increase in Parish Share is recommended.

Points to note are as follows:

2023 Parish Share Allocation

Stipendiary minister posts have moved from 309.63FTE to 308.98FTE (0.65FTE decrease), following consultation with Archdeacons over the Summer.

The 2023 Parish Share allocation was presented to Diocesan Synod in June as draft, subject to clergy post changes for 2023 as agreed by Senior Staff by 31 August 2022. The following changes have been made in the updated version of the share allocation as attached:

Stipendiary post changes:

Archdeaconry	Deanery	Details	Stipendiary post change
Oxford	Oxford	Reduction of 0.5FTE as South with New Hinksey is now HfD post.	-0.50
Buckingham	Aylesbury	Increase of 0.2FTE as Broughton New Communities post transitions into share allocation.	+0.20
Buckingham	Milton Keynes	Increase of 0.2FTE as Bletchley New Communities post transitions into share allocation.	+0.20
		Reduction of 0.25FTE Director of Ecumenical Mission.	-0.25
Buckingham	Wycombe	Reduction of 0.5FTE team Vicar post in Marlow Team.	-0.50

Dorchester	Wallingford	Increase of 0.1FTE as Didcot	+0.20
		All Saints New Communities
		post transitions into share allocation from 01/07/2022.
		Net total	-0.65

The above net reduction in stipendiary clergy posts of 0.65 results in a reduction in ministry costs of stipend, NI and pension totalling approximately £25k.

House for Duty post changes:

Archdeaconry	Deanery	Details	House for Duty post change
Oxford	Oxford	Increase of 1FTE House for Duty post in South with New Hinksey.	+1.0
Berkshire	Bradfield	Increase of 1FTE House for Duty post in Englefield as post now to be included in share.	+1.0
Dorchester	Abingdon	Reduction of 1FTE House for Duty post in Damascas.	-1.0
Dorchester	Vale of White Horse	Increase of 1FTE House for Duty post in Cherbury with Gainfield as post now to be included in share.	+1.0
		Net total	+2.0

Housing implications of post changes

The budgeted average cost of housing for 2023 (the average cost of council tax, water rates, insurance, and repairs) is £10,560. £10,560 is derived from the total budgeted cost of these elements divided by the total number of occupied houses. If a reduction in ministry post changes is notified after the first draft share allocation has been presented to Synod, this results in under recovery of the housing costs (unless the £10,560 housing cost is recalculated, thus increasing ministry costs for all deaneries). Given that we have undertaken at Synod not to change share other than ministry post changes, we should not recalculate the housing element for all.

2024 & 2025 Projections

Summary

At the recommendation of the Finance Committee & Bishops Council, we have projected for 2024 & 2025, assuming salary & stipend increases at 4% pa (ODS 22.12(3)).

The resulting forecast surplus/deficits are, broadly, breakeven, but within the following parameters/assumptions:

- 1. Ministry numbers no change.
- 2. Curate numbers 16 in each annual cohort. This results in a reduction to 56 posts overall in 2025.
- 3. Glebe income rises in line with stipendiary inflation. Any shortfall in the budget is compensated by support from Total Return.
- 4. General inflation is provided at 2%pa. This will need amending once the autumn inflation report is published by the Office of Budget Responsibility (OBR). The current inflation numbers used reflects the previously published reports.
- 5. Parish Share recovery will hold at 96% and increase in line with stipend inflation.
- 6. The actuarial assumption that the Clergy Pension Scheme contribution rate of 28% is unchanged for the period. The 2022 report from the Actuary did confirm 28% for the medium term, but this is not without risk in the current economic environment.

Next steps

- 1. Amend the projections once the 31 October OBR report is published regarding general inflation rates.
- 2. Assess the projected stipend/salary increases against that latest OBR report.
- 3. Consult with Deaneries & Parishes over the coming months about the projected Parish Share rises. Starting with the Autumn 2022 Financial Briefings.
- 4. Assess the projected performance of Total Return over the medium term, and scenario plan accordingly.
- 5. The Finance Committee will review the projections & related economic factors at its November meeting.
- 6. The Finance Committee will continue its work on the Strategic Finance at its November meeting. It will report its findings to Bishops Council in 2023.

Conclusion

Whilst the projects suggest a broadly breakeven position, this has arisen (in no small part) by the reduction in clergy pension costs and the recently announced decrease in National Insurance.

Synod members are invited to note the projections for 2024-25.
