

Guidelines for drawing up your Benefice Profile, Role Description and Person Specification

Drawing up your Parish/Benefice Profile

The aim of the Profile is to showcase your Parish/Benefice honestly and succinctly. If well drawn up, it will greatly help potential candidates discern whether or not they feel God is calling them to apply for the post.

Benefices/parishes need to be clear about their needs and the specific gifts, skills and characteristics they are looking for in a new incumbent.

The tone and language used in this document is important. It will convey a sense of who you are and what is important to you. There is a tendency for profiles to become very formal and information-heavy, but we encourage you to use it as a way of enabling prospective candidates to sense something of the character and personality of your benefice, and how you are different from the other benefices advertising similar posts. Try to think about your story and how you will tell it.

You will need to include a clear description of the key roles and the personal attributes needed in your next priest. The roles and responsibilities will also form part of the Role Description and a template for this is given in Appendix 1.

Usually a small group taking overall responsibility for the production of the profile works well, ideally not more than 5 or 6 people. It is helpful, though not essential, if the Parish Reps are included. Working with a small group avoids the pitfalls of the whole PCC trying to draw up the documents by committee, but draws on the insights and perspectives of several people, not just one or two. Experience shows, too, that different skills are needed - for information gathering, writing and editing, and formatting and layout. These gifts are not usually contained within the same person!

The following pages are Guidelines based on much experience, but there is no need to stick rigidly to them – your profile might develop slightly differently.

A word about Photographs and Layout

Photographs from the life of the parish(es) will play an important part in bringing the Profile to life. It is important that there are more photographs of people and activities than there are of buildings, though. You may already have a good library of photos or you may wish to ask a congregation member to take photographs of church and community activities especially for this purpose.

Do make sure that if you include photographs which have identifiable children in them that you have parental permission – this might be specific permission (probably good if it is a close up) or in the form of a blanket permission that you ask from parents each year.

Layout is important too. The most common format is A4 portrait, but an A5 booklet has been used to good effect, as has A4 landscape – mindful, for example, that many profiles will now be read electronically. Think, too, about what font you wish to use for the text – this can say a lot about you!

Please also keep in mind the visually impaired readers when developing typography. For example, for the partially sighted Arial 12 pt type is suggested as a minimum. Sometimes 16pt may be needed by some visually impaired readers.

OUTLINE

Here we offer you an outline for developing your profile including the role description and person specification with suggestions on ordering of the various sections and on content.

Title of post, Title of benefice, logos (e.g. diocese, parish), photo/illustration etc.

Please remember that pictures of people rather than buildings on the front cover give a greater sense of life and mission.

Foreword from the Bishop or Archdeacon

Leave a page blank at this stage, so that a Foreword from the Bishop or Archdeacon can be added¹ at a later stage.

Introduction

- A paragraph or brief section which introduces the parish/benefice, it's context & location
- If you are in a Team Ministry, a letter of welcome or statement from the Team Rector
- If there has been recent pastoral re-organisation, or this is planned for the future, this should also be flagged here. It may be good to consult with the Area Dean on this. This might include changes to the role from that of the previous minister.

Section 2 - The Mission of your Church

This section is the “heart and soul” of your profile. It is here that the vision, hopes and sense of direction for the mission and ministry of your church will be spelt out. This is the ‘story’ of your church – where it has come from, where you are now and where you hope to be in the future.

This section needs to be an accurate, honest and realistic reflection of where you are as a church and where you might hope to be in 5 years’ time.

It is from this sense of direction for the mission and ministry that the key priorities for the role will emerge along with the key personal gifts, skills and attributes of the person appointed which will be needed to help you work towards your vision and mission. Potential candidates should be able to see what the challenges and opportunities of your benefice/parish are and to judge how their particular gifts and skills might “fit”. This process will require consultation and discussion with at least the whole PCC to ensure agreement and “ownership” across the benefice/parish.

a) How your Benefice/Parish sees themselves

- ‘Headlines’/successes or causes for celebration. Where parishes are linked within a multi-parish benefice, the distinctiveness of each parish briefly appears.

If requested by the PCC under Section 11 (1) (e) of the Patronage (Benefices) Measure 1986, the bishop produces ‘a statement in writing describing in relation to the benefice the needs of the diocese and the wider interests of the Church’.

- The Vision the church/es has/have been working towards
- Strengths & 'weaknesses'. There are a number of tools a parish can use to help them understand themselves better, eg standard SWOT type exercise, Healthy Churches or the 'Angel of the Church' exercise.

Ministers

It is helpful to give a sense of the people behind the roles, so include details of those currently licensed or authorised in your benefice or Team Ministry (e.g. Licensed Lay Ministers, SSMS, House-for-Duty, OLMs, Authorised ministers for Preaching or Communion by Extension, anyone in training). Photographs of the Ministry team would be helpful as this will assist candidates on Interview Day!

If you are in a Team Ministry, how do the parishes work together in reality, who's in the Team, how do colleagues work together?

b) Looking to the Future

In this section, please outline

- the opportunities and challenges which you face as a benefice/parish;
- any priorities which you have identified and any mission strategies or plans which you have or are hoping to develop.

You could group the information under the headings used in your parish/benefice Mission Action Plan (MAP). Alternatively, you could group them under these headings, which are the ones used in the Role Description:

- Mission and outreach
- Leadership and working collaboratively
- Worship and preaching
- Pastoral Care
- Stewardship and benefice organisation

Section 3 – Describing the Role

Here you should outline the key priorities of the role for the person you are appointing. In an appendix to your profile, or as a separate document, you should include a more formal and detailed Role Description as outlined in the template in Appendix 1.

Note that the Role Description included as an appendix to the profile is technically a 'Draft Role Description'. The reason for this is that within the first six months after the licensing, the Archdeacon will work with the new minister to review this draft Role Description and formally sign off an agreed Role Description.

The document may look scarier than it actually is! Much of it is generic to any role. Some of it (Sections One, Four and Five) simply needs some information inserting. The key section for you to work on, and which will be summarised here in the Parish Profile, is Section Three.

Here you will describe the key responsibilities specific to your local situation which you would like your Incumbent/Priest-in-Charge to exercise. These should relate to the plans and priorities identified under the headings in Section 2 of the Profile (Mission of the Church). The Role Description may be broad in nature or quite specific (eg ministry in the local school).

In any parish or benefice, substantial consultation across the whole church and wider community is highly recommended. Your Parish Development Adviser will be happy to advise you with this process and may come to facilitate a meeting of the PCC or wider group. In a Multi Parish Benefice, it is essential that the interests of the separate parishes, together with the life of the whole benefice, all come together in an agreed role description.

Further guidance on Role Descriptions is available at https://www.oxford.anglican.org/archive/guidance_for_role_descriptions_whole_text.pdf

Section 4 - Person Specification

This is a description of the person you hope to appoint to the role. This focus here is on what the person is like, not what you want them to do. It is very important that anything you have as part of the Person Specification is based on something that is said in the Role Description or in the Profile. The Person Specification describes the skills, knowledge, experience, and personal attributes which a person will need to have or be able to acquire in order to fulfil the hopes and aspirations which you have described in this document. Substantial consultation across the whole church and wider community is highly recommended.

This section defines the role in human terms and is key to supporting the process of discernment through which all those involved in the appointment process assess whether someone has been called by God to serve in your parish.

It does this by

- focusing on the attributes that are essential to carry out the responsibilities of the post
- listing the qualities and skills which will enable someone to carry these out to a good standard
- avoiding unnecessary assumptions that might deter good candidates (eg- “have previous experience as an incumbent” – there may be an outstanding Curate who could do the role equally as well)

Areas which need to be considered are:

- Qualifications/training
- Experience
- Knowledge, skills and competences
- General attributes
- Other

You will find some guidance to inform your thinking in Appendix 2, but it is important that you formulate your own words where possible.

It is best to offer a summary of the key characteristics here, and then to offer a fuller and more formal, Person Specification, of the sort laid out in Appendix 2, in an appendix to your Profile. The more formal document will provide the basis for shortlisting.

Section 5 - Support you will offer

Having highlighted what you are hoping for in your new incumbent, now outline what they can expect from you in terms of your care and support of them and commitment to the ongoing development of their ministry.

e.g

- encouragement to maintain a sustainable ministry, including days off, holidays, retreats, opportunities for learning and development, adequate time for family life, friendship and recreation.
- financial support for retreats and ministerial development
- shared commitment to meeting the challenges identified
- prayer, friendship, fellowship...

Section 6 - Detailed description of the Benefice / Parish

Much general information is available via the internet. It is good to include here some weblinks to local schools, community websites, census information, county and district councils etc. This will help you to avoid lengthy descriptions in this section.

a) General Description of the Parish/Benefice and its context

This section helps potential candidates to get a feel not just of the ministry in your parish or benefice, but of what it is like to live here.

Map of the wider area and of the benefice/parish - emphasise potential transport links with large centres, anything remarkable about general communications.

Social Geography - area, location, housing, industry/economy, culture, local councils, natural centres, schools, hospitals, key networks, shops, leisure facilities. Refer to websites where possible.

Schools - details of nearby schools in and beyond the benefice (to help a potential incumbent with children of school age). Refer to websites where possible.

Issues and concerns - closure of facilities, young people, house prices, rural issues, unemployment, projected by-pass, expansion etc.

Safeguarding - information about safeguarding arrangements in the benefice/parish and the name of the Parish Safeguarding Officer.

b) The Worshipping Community

Parish/Benefice/Team Parish boundaries, presence of other Christian churches or other faith communities - Numbers on electoral roll. Any other staff or voluntary help. Parish Office/secretarial help.

The Church Building(s) - short history of church buildings, points of main interest – architecture, listing if any, main features (visitors, tourists), is the church left open? General state of repair and any issues highlighted in last quinquennial report. Any plans to re-order church buildings.

Churchyards - open or closed?

Worship - pattern and style of services (including average Sunday attendance for adults and children), mid-week & special services /occasions, Ecumenical links, books used, music, Mums and Toddlers, homes for elderly, prisons, home communions. Who leads/takes part in leading worship?

Occasional Offices - numbers of baptisms, weddings and funerals in the last calendar year. May be best presented in a table for comparison with the last couple of years.

Life of the church - Sunday School, Youth Group, After School Clubs, Choir, M.U., uniformed organisations, regular social events, house/study groups, nurture courses, prayer groups/partners, links with organisations. This could include something that gives the reader a “flavour” of your parish/benefice team unless you have put it elsewhere.

Events - Regular “specials” that you know will happen - fete, carnival, special links with village organisations, flower festival and so on.

c) Organisation and Finance

PCC/DCC/Benefice Council - how many, how they relate to each other, other bodies, how often meetings are held, sub-committees etc.

Giving and money - some information about money, covenants, envelope scheme, about the congregation’s philosophy about money, stewardship of time and talents. You should include a brief summary of your accounts and a note of the Parish Share figure and whether you are “paying your way.”

Local Trusts - List the local Trusts of which the applicant would become a trustee, including what these trusteeships involve (eg is it one meeting a year to disperse £150 to time-honoured recipients or a meeting a month coping with £20000 pa)

d) Other Buildings

Attached buildings - kitchen/ cloakroom, halls, foyer, side chapels etc

Other church buildings – halls, other houses, property

Section 7 - The Vicarage/Rectory

General description, site in the benefice/parish relative to the church(es), age, garden, number of rooms – rather as an estate agent would describe – significant features, if any. This is where your new incumbent will be living, so please include a couple of attractive photographs!

Section 8 - Other Information

SECTION TWO: CONTEXT

Wider Context

With the appointment of the new Bishop of Oxford the Rt Revd Dr Steven Croft a new Common Vision is emerging for the Diocese of Oxford ...

The vision addresses what kind of church we are called to be – A Christ-like Church.

What are the marks of a Christ-like Church? To be the Church of the Beatitudes:

- Contemplative
- Compassionate
- Courageous

It also asks what we are therefore called to do together. This is currently a work in progress, but is likely to cover some of the following strategic priorities:

- Make a difference in the world
- Support and grow the local church
- Establish new churches and congregations
- Serve our schools
- Renew discipleship and ministry

These priorities will be supported centrally by resources, training, conferences, workshops, and much more. The diocese is inviting benefices and their priests to share a vision rather than demanding a response. It wants all its priests to flourish in ministry and to deepen their enjoyment of God.
