

Marriage in the Church of England: Guidance for the Diocese of Oxford

General Introduction

The Church's teaching on marriage is summarised in Canon B 30 as follows:

“...according to our Lord's teaching, marriage is in its nature a union permanent and lifelong, for better or worse, till death do us part, of one man with one woman, to the exclusion of all others on either side, for the procreation and nurture of children, for the hallowing and right direction of the natural instincts and affections, and for the natural society, help and comfort which one ought to have of the other, both in prosperity and adversity.”

Wider Background

1. Clergy are recommended to obtain a copy of the booklets Guidebook for the Clergy (issued by the General Register Office and found at: <http://www.homeoffice.gov.uk/publications/agencies-public-bodies/ips/general-ips-publications/civil-reg/clergy-guide>) and Anglican Marriage in England and Wales (from the Faculty Office, 1 The Sanctuary, Westminster, London SW1P 3JJ. Tel: (020) 7222 5381). These provide detailed answers to numerous questions that are frequently raised. The Diocesan Registry regularly sends new guidance via the Bishop's weekly newsletter which is subsequently posted on the Diocesan website in the 'Support Services' section under 'Legal (Registry)'.

Establishing Identity and Entitlement to marry

2.1 When a couple contact you to enquire about holding their wedding in your church, you should establish whether they are resident parishioners, on the church electoral roll or have a qualifying connection with your church or parish and invite them to attend for an initial meeting. (See part 9 below as to qualifying connections.)

2.2 At this meeting, you should ask to see their identity documents to establish their nationality, evidence of their address and evidence to support their qualifying connection with your church or parish. Original documents, not copies, should be required. The member of the clergy concerned should take and retain photocopies of any documents that are produced. You may therefore like to ask them to bring the following documents with them to their appointment:-

- (a) their passports or national identity cards for European Economic Area (EEA) (see paragraph 10.2 for a list of countries) or Swiss nationals. NB: if one or both of them are found to be foreign nationals from outside of the EEA it is unlawful to marry them by Banns or Common Licence (see section 10).
- (b) evidence of their address(es) which should normally take the form of a driving licence showing the person as resident at the address in question and official correspondence to the person at that address in the form of bank statements or correspondence from a government department or local authority covering at least a six month period.
- (c) if they are not resident parishioners or on the church electoral roll, evidence to support their qualifying connection: if the couple, or their parents, are known to you and have a worshipping qualifying connection this will be sufficient for your records, however, you may need to ask to see Baptism or Confirmation Certificates or parents' and/or grandparents' Marriage Certificates or evidence that they (or their parents, during the applicant's lifetime) lived in the parish for over six months (by means of bank statements covering six months, for example)
- (d) if there has been a previous marriage:
 - i. a death certificate, if the previous marriage ended due to the death of their spouse, or
 - ii. their Decree(s) Absolute, if their previous marriage ended in divorce

Restrictions on marriage

3.1 The legal age of marriage is 16, and if a marriage is solemnised between persons either of whom is under that age the marriage is void. If either of the parties is under 18 the consent of parents or guardians should be obtained. If such consent is withheld, or there is no parent living, and no guardian, a minor can apply to the court for leave to marry, the court may dispense with the necessity of obtaining any consent.

3.2 Marriages between persons within the prohibited degrees of kindred and affinity must not be solemnised. Any question as to whether a particular couple are within the prohibited is to be referred to the Chancellor through the Diocesan Registry.

3.3. A marriage may be solemnised only between the hours of 8am and 6pm under Canon Law.

3.4 Serious consequences may ensue both as a matter of civil law and of clergy discipline if clergy participate in marriages which are entered into for criminal purposes or turn out to be invalid through bigamy, lack of proper consent, or other reasons.

3.5 If you consider that there is some subterfuge being attempted (for example, an attempt to disguise mental incapacity), consult the Diocesan Registry immediately for further guidance.

Marriage after banns for British or EEA Nationals Only

4.1 The minister may require to receive notice in writing seven days before the first publication of banns, giving the full names of the persons to be married, their addresses, and the length of time that they have lived there and evidence that both persons are EEA nationals. Where the right to marry is based on a qualifying connection (rather than current residence or enrolment on the church electoral roll) the minister may also require the couple to provide information to demonstrate that at least one of them has a qualifying connection entitling them to be married in the church concerned.

4.2 There is a prescribed form of words that must be used for reading banns. The form set out in the rubric to the Form of Solemnisation of Matrimony in the Book of Common Prayer has the force of law. There is now also statutory authority for the modernised version in the rubric to the Common Worship Marriage Service.

4.3 Banns are to be published on three Sundays preceding the solemnisation of the marriage, during the principal service which should be the service at which 'the greatest number of persons who habitually attend public worship are likely to attend'. Banns do not need to be read on three consecutive Sundays.

4.4 In addition, Banns may be read again on the same day if there is a pastoral reason for doing so (for example, if the couple concerned do not attend the 'principal service' but attend an evening service). But if Banns are read twice on the same day, that still only constitutes 'one time of asking', and they will still need to be read on two other Sundays.

4.5 Banns of marriage may be published at morning prayer or evening prayer by a lay person where no member of the clergy officiates at the service at which it is usual to publish banns. Where this happens the lay person signs the banns book as the officiating minister, but the duty of entering the banns and of issuing certificates of publication remains with the incumbent.

4.6 If a marriage is to take place after banns in the church of a parish in which neither, or only one, of the parties resides or has a Church Electoral Roll qualification or a Marriage Measure 2008 qualification, then the banns must be called both in the church in which the marriage is to take place and in the churches of each of the parishes in which the parties actually reside. For couples who are having difficulty locating their parish church, please direct them to the website 'A Church Near You' (www.achurchnearyou.com) where they can enter their postcode to locate their parish church.

Please note that we receive a high level of emergency Common Licence applications because Banns have not been read in one or more parishes. To avoid this unnecessary and expensive intervention, we suggest that you check with the couple at the beginning of the three month period before the wedding, whether they have arranged the reading of their banns in their home parish(es) and reiterate that they cannot be legally married unless their Banns have been read and you receive a Banns Certificate. You may also like to let them know the fee for a Common Licence, which may be an added incentive.

Marriage after Common Licence for British and EEA Nationals Only

5.1 Application for a Common Licence must be made to the Chancellor or a surrogate. Applications are normally made to a surrogate except where the application falls within any of the following cases which are reserved to the Chancellor:

- (a) either party cannot produce –
 - (i) a valid passport showing that party to be a British, EEA or Swiss national; or
 - (ii) a valid national identity card issued by an EEA state or Switzerland
- (b) a person to be married is under 18
- (c) the marriage is between persons who are within any of the degrees of affinity specified in Part 2 of Schedule 1 to the Marriage Act 1949*
- (d) a caveat has been entered against the grant of a common licence
- (e) a party has been married and divorced more than once
- (f) neither party is baptized
- (g) where only one of the parties is not baptized and that party is unwilling to sign a declaration that he or she does not reject the Christian faith
- (h) any case where a question arises as to whether a Common Licence may lawfully be issued.

A list of surrogates can be found on the diocesan website. Diocesan Surrogates may see couples who qualify to marry in any part of the Diocese of Oxford, however, Archdeaconry Surrogates can only see couples who wish to marry in their particular Archdeaconry. The Surrogate cannot issue the Licence, but can take the affidavit sworn by applicants. The Licences are issued by the Diocesan Registrar after consultation, if necessary, with the Chancellor or Archdeacons.

5.2 A Common Licence can only be granted if one of the parties has resided in the parish in which the marriage is to take place for at least the fifteen days before the Licence is issued or is on the Church Electoral Roll of that parish, or

* Child of former civil partner
Child of former spouse
Former civil partner of grandparent
Former civil partner of parent
Former spouse of grandparent
Former spouse of parent
Grandchild of former civil partner
Grandchild of former spouse can substantiate some other qualifying connection under the Marriage Measure 2008 (see para. 9 below).

5.3 The granting of a Common Licence is discretionary and not a matter of right. In the case of applications where neither of the parties has been baptised, or where one only has been baptised, any unbaptised party is required to sign a declaration that he or she does not reject the Christian faith.

5.4 The Bishop permits Common Licences to be granted when either of the parties has been divorced and has a former partner still living provided that the House of Bishops' guidance to clergy is followed (see para 11.2). But where a party has been married and divorced more than once, the application is reserved to the Chancellor and, in the light of what is said in the House of Bishops' guidance, a Common Licence will not normally be issued in such cases. Surrogates are required to take great care to satisfy themselves that the statements made by applicants for a Common Licence are true before the licence is issued. The applicants must produce to the Surrogate a completed questionnaire, countersigned by the clergy concerned (see para. 11.2 below), together with a copy of the Decree Absolute for production to the Diocesan Registrar.

5.5 Details of the current licence fees can be obtained from a surrogate or from the Diocesan Registry (contact the Registry Clerk, Miss Sara Leader on 01865 297211).

5.6 If you require an emergency Common Licence please contact Sara Leader on 01865 297211 for assistance.

5.7 Banns of marriage and Common Licences are valid for three months. A marriage solemnised after that period without further authority is void.

Marriage after Special Licence

6. For a marriage by Special Licence application should be made to the Faculty Office, 1 The Sanctuary, Westminster, London SW1P 3JT. Tel: 0207 222 5381 (ext. 7162). A Special Licence is issued only in unusual circumstances, and it enables the parties to be married at any time or place in England without previous residence in the district. Weddings in any of the Oxford College Chapels or School Chapels within the Diocese are always by Special Licence. Fees on application.

Marriage after Superintendent Registrar's Certificate

7.1 Since 2 March 2015, all non-European Economic Area (non-EEA) nationals should be married by Superintendent Registrar's Certificate (SRC) (see section 10) (unless a couple applied in writing to the Diocesan Registry before that date). These couples can rely on qualifying connections (as well as residence and enrolment on the church electoral roll) to apply for an SRC under the Immigration Act 2014.

7.2 In certain circumstances, it may be desirable for marriages of British and EEA nationals to be solemnised on the authority of a SRC (usually in circumstances where otherwise a Common Licence would be applicable, but is unavailable). The Diocesan Registrar will indicate when such applications should be made.

7.3 Please note, British and EEA couples who are using a qualifying connection to get married in a particular parish cannot use a SRC to marry. Only those British or EEA couples who live within the parish or are on the Electoral Roll of the church can use this preliminary.

Residence

8.1 The Marriage Act 1949 provides that marriage must normally be solemnised in the church or chapel of the parish in which one of the parties resides. It is not possible to define exhaustively what is meant by 'residence', and it is a question of fact to be decided in the circumstances of each case whether or not a person genuinely resides within a parish. It can be said, however, that renting a room and leaving luggage there without occupation is not a residential qualification within the meaning of the Marriage Act. The circumstances which have prompted such devices in the past, however, will largely be covered now by the new qualifying provisions under the Marriage Measure 2008 (see para. 9 below).

8.2 An exception to the above rules is that a person who is on the Church Electoral Roll of a parish in which they do not reside may be married in the church of that parish. The Synodical Government Measure 1969 provides that a person who is not resident in a parish should habitually attend public worship there for a period of six months before their name is added to the Church Electoral Roll. It is improper to add a person's name to the Church Electoral Roll of a parish unless he or she has complied with this requirement of the Synodical Government Measure.

Marriage Measure 2008 Qualifying Connections

9.1 The Marriage Measure 2008 came into effect on 1 October 2008. It has made a substantial difference to the existing arrangements. The concept of 'residence' has been supplemented by a new range of qualifying connections (it does not replace the residence test, merely expands the range of qualifying connections with the parish church in question).

9.2 So in addition to residence in the parish or inclusion on the electoral roll, any couple may now be married in any parish church provided that

9.2.1 One of the persons concerned:

- was baptised in the parish; or
- has been confirmed and the confirmation has been entered in a church register book belonging to the parish, (this would have been done on the basis that the person concerned was prepared for confirmation in the parish); or

- has at any time had his or her usual place of residence in the parish for at least 6 months; or
- has at any time habitually attended public worship in the parish for at least 6 months;

or

9.2.2 That person's parent has at any time during the person's lifetime:

- had his or her usual place of residence in the parish for at least 6 months; or
- habitually attended public worship in the parish for at least 6 months;

or

9.2.3 That person's parent or grandparent was married in the parish.

(In this list references to being baptised, confirmed or married, or attending public worship, all refer to Church of England services.)

9.3 Common licences may be issued on the same basis.

For further advice and guidance, please refer to the Church of England website, (see <https://www.churchofengland.org/prayer-and-worship/worship-texts-and-resources/common-worship/marriage> and <https://www.churchofengland.org/life-events/weddings>)

Foreign (Non-European Economic Area) Nationals

10.1 Since 2 March 2015, where either of the parties is a national of a country outside the EEA, the couple must be married on the authority of a Superintendent Registrar's Certificate. It is no longer lawful to marry couples involving a non-EEA national after Banns or by Common Licence.

10.2 Countries classed as EEA countries in the General Register Office Guidebook for The Clergy, issued in February 2015 (see link in paragraph 1), are Austria, Belgium, Britain, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Italy, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Republic of Ireland, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden. For these purposes, Switzerland is also included.

10.3 All nationals from countries not included in this list (or any updated list) should be married by SRC.

10.4 Once you have seen the couple's identity and address documents, evidence of their qualifying connection, agreed a date and other arrangements, and, in principle, you are happy to marry them, you should direct them to contact the relevant Register Office to serve notice for their SRCs.

10.5 A Government website enables couples to put their postcode into a search engine to find their nearest office. The couple may, however, find that they need to attend a Designated Register Office but the local Civil Registrar will advise them accordingly: <http://maps.direct.gov.uk/LDGRedirect/MapAction.do?ref=grolight>.

10.6 The Superintendent Registrar will advise the couple what documentation they need to provide to serve notice and apply for a SRC. In addition to that documentation, the Minister conducting the marriage service should provide a letter of support, confirming that the couple do qualify to marry in your church and you are content to accept SRCs granted for twelve months. (Please see the pro-forma letter on the Diocese of Oxford website: <http://www.oxford.anglican.org/advice-clergy-marriage-foreign-nationals/>.)

10.7 Once they make their application, there is a 28 day notice period. If the Superintendent Registrar refers their application to the Home Office, this will be extended to 70 days. The couple will be notified in writing if their application is referred.

10.8 Both parties to a marriage must possess valid SRCs (which will have been printed on blue paper). The certificates state both how long they are valid, and the date by which the marriage must be solemnised.

10.9 The fee for serving notice for a SRC, from 2 March 2015, will be £47 per application, i.e. £94 per couple. This may, of course, be amended from time to time so the couple will need to confirm this with the Civil Registrar.

Divorcees, and Persons of Acquired Gender

11.1 Under the Matrimonial Causes Act 1965 no member of the clergy of the Church of England can be compelled to solemnise the marriage of any person whose former marriage has been dissolved and whose former spouse is still living, or to permit the marriage to be solemnised in the church of which she/he is the minister.

11.2. The Church's current discipline on the re-marriage of divorced persons is set out in the House of Bishops Guidelines issued in 2003 (see <https://churchsupporthub.org/wp-content/uploads/2015/07/Guidelines-for-Clergy-Marriage-After-Divorce.pdf>). This guidance sets out a number of issues and questions clergy may wish to address with couples intending to be married in these circumstances. There is an application form which is recommended for use in all cases (see <https://www.churchofengland.org/sites/default/files/2017-11/MarriageAFTERdivorceFORM.pdf>).

11.3 Whilst the decision whether to solemnize the marriage of divorcees must in every case be a matter for the individual clergy concerned, clergy may wish to refer cases to the bishop for advice. If so, they should send the completed application to the bishop with their own assessment of the situation (which, in accordance with the Data Protection Act, the couple would be entitled to see).

11.4 Essentially the same conscientious objection provisions apply in the case of persons of acquired gender, save that clergy may not refuse the use of the church over which they have control for such a wedding. Guidance should be sought from the Registry in any such case, as the law is not straightforward.

11.5 Clergy are reminded that (whatever control they may have over the solemnising of marriage in these cases) they are not at liberty to refuse to call banns and issue banns certificates for such weddings. These are mostly administrative acts, and their duty is to report any objection and in due course to certify the calling of the banns.

11.6 It is essential that whatever approach clergy adopt on the issue generally, they apply their own policy consistently. In case of doubt, do not hesitate to consult the Registrar.

Civil Marriage

12.1 The Marriage Act of 1994 allows for civil weddings to take place on 'approved premises', such as hotels and country houses. The Act provides that a marriage on approved premises is to be solemnised in the presence of two witnesses and the Superintendent Registrar and a Registrar of the Registration District in which the premises are situated. It also provides quite specifically that 'no religious service shall be used at a marriage on approved premises.'

12.2 The reason for this prohibition is that in such a context it would be very easy for the proper spiritual dimension of Christian marriage to be downgraded or misunderstood. However, the bishops do recognise that such a request should be handled very carefully, because of the pastoral opportunities it presents.

Civil Partnerships

13.1 The Civil Partnership Act 2004 provides for two people of the same sex to register as civil partners in a register office or on approved premises. This Act provided that civil partnerships could not be registered on 'religious premises'. In July 2005, the House of Bishops advised that 'clergy of the Church of England should not provide services of blessing for those who register a civil partnership'.

13.2 The Marriages and Civil Partnerships (Approved Premises) (Amendment) Regulations 2011 contained new arrangements relating to religious premises. However, the approval of church buildings for use in connection with civil partnerships may take place only after 'obtaining the necessary consent from the governing body of the denomination' - in this case the General Synod. No such consent has been given. As a result, no church or chapel of the Church of England can be approved for the registration of civil partnerships.

Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013

14.1 The Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 makes it lawful for two persons of the same sex to marry. However, the Church of England is expressly excluded from this legislation and the clergy are not able legally to solemnise a valid marriage in these circumstances. Any purported marriage according to the rites of the Church of England of two persons of the same sex is void as a matter of law.

14.2 If ministers have further questions or anxieties on this issue then they should consult their area bishop or the Diocesan Registry.
